

Dear Authors and Contributors,

Please note that we have an open call for papers on COVID-19, SARS-CoV-2, coronavirus pandemic. For these topics we will offer a very fast track for reviewing and publishing as this problem is especially important for our economies and businesses in the globalized world.

EBER (Entrepreneurial Business and Economics Review) is the Q3 Scopus-indexed journal, whereas the ongoing CiteScore 2020 is 2.2

For details see <https://www.scopus.com/sourceid/21100857389>

We seek for original and good quality articles on the coronavirus pandemic, the Covid-19 disease, or SARS-CoV-2 crisis. In this context we will accept articles dedicated to all aspects of economics and management not only in Central and Eastern Europe but from all corners of the globe. Our special attention is paid to the impact of Covid-19 on entrepreneurship, international business and/or international economics. Such articles will be our priority. Please have in mind that normally EBER accepts articles only on (i) entrepreneurship and (ii) international business/international economics.

While preparing such articles for us, you may refer to the following articles, which have been already published in EBER:

Marona, B., & Tomal, M. (2020). The COVID-19 pandemic impact upon housing brokers' workflow and their clients' attitude: Real estate market in Krakow. Entrepreneurial Business and Economics Review, 8(4), 221-232. <https://doi.org/10.15678/EBER.2020.080412>
